

WILSON REPLIES TO GERMAN PEACE NOTE

DECLINES ARMISTICE WHILE ARMY OF CENTRAL POWERS REMAINS ON INVADED SOIL

DOOR FOR JUST PEACE IS LEFT WIDE OPEN BY THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—President Wilson has met Germany's peace note with a move which will, at one stroke, develop whether her proposal is sincere or merely a pretention and, if a pretention it be, fully justify for all time before the world the prolonging of the war with "force to the utmost, force without stint or limit."

At the same time the President has left wide open the door to peace.

Declining to propose an armistice while the armies of the central powers remain on invaded soil, the president today called on the German chancellor to state, as an absolutely necessary preliminary to a reply from the entente allies and the United States, whether Germany accepts the principles of peace as repeatedly laid down, or merely proposes to accept them "as the basis of negotiation" and whether the chancellor merely speaks for the German military masters conducting the war or the whole German people.

As the full significance of the president's diplomacy is disclosed it becomes evident that he has left open the way to peace and at the same time left the militarist leaders of the central powers with a question they must necessarily answer in a way that will lead to peace or confront them with an embarrassing situation in their own countries.

One of President's Master Strokes

Among diplomats here the president's communication is regarded as one of his master strokes. It is pointed out that upon cursory examination it may not show such strong terms as some may have desired. All the president's advisers, however, are confident that as close consideration reveals its full import, it will be apparent that it is a long step forward if Germany really means peace, and that if she does not it will strip bare another hypocrisy of German diplomacy so completely that the responsibility for prolonging the war never can be charged to the allies, even by the German people themselves.

The text of the president's communication was made public today by Secretary Lansing together with the official text of Prince Maximilian's note now published in America for the first time. At the same time officials let it be known that there would be no reply at present to the Austrian note similar to that of the German chancellor. It is not considered necessary to deal with Austria until the time comes for a reply to her dominating ally.

As forecast last night in Associated Press dispatches the president did not make a curt and peremptory rejection of the peace offer nor bluntly demand an unconditional surrender now because the American government did not propose to fall into the trap of supplying the German militarists with a means of bargaining up their argument that the Germans are fighting a "defensive" war and that the announced objects of the allies are only to "destroy" Germany.

Met With Counter-Attack. What the president did was to meet a peace move which the allied diplomats regarded as a trick with a counter move which will expose it, if a trick it be. He has called upon the German government for evidence of its good faith and should it not be forthcoming, he has left with the German leaders the problem of explaining to their own people, already clamoring for peace, why they are not willing to accept it. From that point the president passes to another which will develop, as the exchange proceeds: "Whether the United States and the allies will deal except on the battlefield with the German government as at present constituted."

The president tells the chancellor that he feels he is "justified in asking whether the imperial chancellor is speaking merely for the constituted authorities of the empire who have, so far, conducted the war."

This will develop whether Maximilian speaks for the German militarists whom the president has denounced as unworthy of any trust or whether he speaks with the force of the people of a nation. This is regarded as probably the most important part of the president's communication fraught with potential possibilities of the most far reaching effect in Germany where an active allied propaganda has been making rapid headway in awakening the German people to the necessity of assuming the responsibilities of their own government and making their own peace.

Will Make No Compromise. To appreciate its meaning, this

Editorial Comment

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—The following editorial comment has been collected on the note transmitted tonight in reply to Prince Maximilian's peace offer:

Lincoln (Neb.) State Journal.—The Wilson reply voices the firmness of the allied nations in rejecting a premature cessation of the war and it leaves the way open for the central powers to apply once more when they are in mood to ask a peace that the rest of the world can afford to grant.

The Baltimore Sun.—Probably no one else in the country would have answered the chancellor in the manner adopted by the president. The general feeling on the part of other comment on the matter is to be taken as an indication that the right answer would be simply a hot demand for unconditional surrender.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.—In this interrogative way the president places the responsibility of action upon the central powers. They cannot pretend that their proposal has been flouted or that it has been denied consideration.

St. Louis Republic.—President Wilson's reply to the German peace note, the cloak in the language of a polite inquiry is nothing less than a demand on the Hun for unconditional surrender.

Chicago Herald and Examiner.—The president for this nation was peace—but while injustice rules or threatens, peace does not interest America.

Washington Post.—Volumes could not convey more than is contained in the brief reply of President Wilson to the request of German government for a peace discussion.

Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.—The president's reply to Germany is conclusive and to the point. If the central powers really desire peace, they have opportunity now to get it.

New York Tribune.—Our conclusion is that President Wilson's inquiry was intended by him not to express the state of mind in this country toward a faithless people, but to make it impossible for the imperial German government to capitalize its insincerity of morale by saying to the German people:

"We have asked in vain for peace on President Wilson's own conditions."

Chicago Tribune.—The president has met the adroit approach of the German chancellor with mastery skill. The president has prevented Maximilian from turning to the German people and saying:

"You see, we offered America peace on her own terms, and she has refused it. I have exposed the insincerity of her principles. I have revealed the real purpose of the allies. You see now it is to destroy the German people. Therefore fight on."

The president has given the German people stern warning of the terms upon which they must seek peace. It is for them to choose whether they will pay now or later.

New York Staats Zeitung.—The reply to Prince Maximilian of the recent peace proposal of the German chancellor opens a possibility for ending the war. We are convinced that Prince Maximilian can, and will, in a short while, accede to President Wilson's demands.

New York World.—In dealing with the German offensive, President Wilson has employed the same tactics that Foch used in breaking the German military offensive—a counter-offensive. The president has simply shifted the issue back to Germany and left the German government to get out as best it can of the trap which was so carefully set for the United States and the allies.

but direct method of developing an answer for all time to the question, do the German people want peace?

An armistice while the invaders remain on violated soil is already rejected. Germany now must state whether she accepts "a reign of law based on the consent of the governed," or whether she wants to negotiate about one; she must say whether the appeal for peace comes from the beaten militarists who began a war for world domination or from a war ridden people ready to make peace lasting.

Note May Not Satisfy. It was freely conceded that a hasty reading of the president's answer might not at first satisfy some who hoped for a flat rejection of any terms but a unconditional surrender. But the government is confident that as the president's communication is carefully digested, its full import grasped, its almost inevitable effect realized, and its possibilities for weakening the German military party on its home grounds comprehended it will be seen that the president chose a very deep,

Heavy Attack Launched Against the Germans

President's Note to Imperial Government

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Following is the text of the note transmitted tonight to the imperial German government thru the charge d'affaires of the Swiss embassy, in reply to the peace offer of Prince Maximilian of Baden, the imperial German chancellor. The note it was stated is not in any sense a reply, but is merely an inquiry. The note reads:

"Sir: 'I have the honor to acknowledge, on behalf of the president, your note of October 6th, enclosing the communication from the German government to the president; and I am instructed by the president to request you to make the following communication to the imperial German chancellor:

"Before making reply to the request of the imperial government, and in order that the reply shall be as candid and straightforward as the momentous interests involved require, the president of the United States deems it necessary to assure himself of the exact meaning of the note of the imperial chancellor. Does the imperial chancellor mean that the imperial German government accepts the terms laid down by the president in his address to the congress of the United States on the 8th, of January, last, and in subsequent addresses and that its object in entering into discussions would be only to agree upon the practical details of their application?"

"The president feels bound to say with regard to the suggestion of an armistice that he would not feel at liberty to propose a cessation of arms to the governments with which the government of the United States is associated against the central powers, so long as the armies of those powers are upon their soil; the good faith of any discussion would manifestly depend upon consent of the central powers immediately to withdraw their forces everywhere from invaded territory."

"The president also feels that he is justified in asking whether the imperial chancellor is speaking merely for the constituted authorities of the empire who have so far conducted the war. He deems the answer to these questions vital from every point of view."

"Accept Sir, the renewed assurances of my high consideration."

"ROBERT LANSING."

German Peace Proposal

In making public the text of the president's query Secretary Lansing also gave out a translation of the German peace proposal transmitted to this government by F. Oederlin, charge d'affaires ad interim at the Swiss legation. The text of the translation follows:

"The German original text is alone to be considered as authoritative."

"Mr. Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, Washington, D. C."

"The German government requests the President of the United States of America to take steps for the restoration of peace to notify all belligerents of this request and to invite them to delegate plenipotentiaries for the purpose of taking up negotiations. The German government accepts as a basis for the peace negotiations the program laid down by the president of the United States in his message to congress of January 8th, 1918, and in his subsequent pronouncements, particularly in his address of September 27, 1918."

"In order to avoid further bloodshed, the German government requests to bring about the immediate conclusion of a general armistice on land, on water and in the air."

(Signed) "MAXIMILIAN, Prince of Baden, Imperial Chancellor."

LODGE DISAPPOINTED WITH WILSON'S REPLY

Representative Fess of Ohio also Voices Regret at Step Taken by President

Washington, Oct. 8.—While most congressional leaders tonight approved President Wilson's note of inquiry to Germany, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader and senior minority member of the senate foreign relations committee and Representative Fess of Ohio, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, expressed disappointment in the course taken by the president.

"I am keenly disappointed," said Senator Lodge, "that the president should at this stage enter into a discussion with the imperial German government as Mr. Lansing has done in the note signed by him."

"Personally I adhere to the statement of the president made in his speech of September 27, in which he said:

"We are all agreed that there can be no peace obtained by any kind of bargain or compromise with the governments of the central empires, because we have dealt with them already and have seen them deal with other governments that were parties to this struggle at Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest. I feel very strongly that there should be no discussion with the German government until they are ready and compelled to accept the terms we think it right to impose."

"I cannot but feel a painful anxiety as to what effect this note will have upon the allies, upon our armies, upon our soldiers who are fighting and dying and conquering in order to crush the thing which the president is opening a discussion."

Rep. Fess' Comment. In expressing his disappointment, ment, Representative Fess said the president had taken the step "against which the country has been warned."

"The way has been opened," said Mr. Fess, "for Germany to save herself by withdrawing her armies within her own border by agreement rather than by retreat under fire as she had been forced to do the past few weeks. Peace discussions with Germany before our armies are on her soil will not insure the future."

"I had hoped that no step would be taken to transfer the discussion from the field to the table. I do not believe the soldiers or the country will ever be satisfied with anything short of a conclusive peace which can only be assured by such chastisement of Germany as will make a like sacrifice in the future impossible."

Representative Rainey of Illinois, acting Democratic leader in the house, said the President's note means that the war will continue until the enemy armies have been withdrawn into their own countries and until the terms laid down by the president are accepted.

AMERICANS, BRITISH AND FRENCH PLUNGE SEVERAL MILES INTO ENEMY LINES

WAR SUMMARY

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

The complete withdrawal of the teutonic allies from occupied territories is essential to the commencement of any peace discussions with Germany. This fact has been made known to Germany and Austria-Hungary by President Wilson in answer to the recent appeal of the German imperial chancellor for an armistice on land and the sea and in the air and the discussion of possible means for ending the war. In addition President Wilson is desirous of knowing and has directly asked the question for whom the imperial chancellor was speaking when he advanced his proposal—whether it was for the constituted authorities of the empire who have been conducting the war or for the whole German people. The president also desires to know if Germany in seeking peace accepts the terms already laid down by the president as the basis for the ending of hostilities. Meanwhile the entente constituted authorities of the emulating the armies of the teutonic allies.

In France they are fast carrying forward maneuvers which are resulting in the enemy's line giving way from the region of Cambrai and Verdun. Likewise in Macedonia and Turkish theaters the cleaning up process continues unabated.

Over a front of twenty miles between Cambrai and St. Quentin the British, American and French troops have started a mighty drive, which, in its initial stage has thrown the enemy back from highly prized tactical positions to a depth of from two to five miles.

Numerous towns have been captured and seemingly all the great defensive positions of the enemy in this region have been obliterated. Large numbers of prisoners have been added to the already great throngs captured since the allied offensive began.

In addition terrible casualties were inflicted on the enemy by the heavy artillery fire at the beginning of the attack which began early Tuesday morning and the attacking forces against the enemy who resisted stubbornly at various points. The American troops, fighting alongside the British, were in the van and when night fell their position were where the points of penetration of the German line were greatest. At last accounts, hard fighting was still in progress with the enemy steadily giving ground.

On the southern part of the battle front, from the Rheims sector to the Meuse river, the French and Americans are carrying out successfully their converging movement northward and on all sectors have gained additional ground.

Northeast of Berry-au-Bac, the French have driven their line to the junction of the Aisne and Sambre rivers, placing the German front around Laon and eastward in greater jeopardy. In Champagne, General Gouraud's forces have increased their gains all the way eastward to the region of the Argonne forest while on the eastern side of the forest the Americans have improved their battle front along the Aisne Valley. In Macedonia the Italians and Serbs are still forcing the enemy troops to retire in Albania and in Serbia while in Palestine the British have driven the Turks more than thirty miles north of Damascus. Reports are to the effect that the Turkish cabinet has resigned and that the Turks have sent delegates to Greece to talk peace.

NEW SHELL FACTORIES

Washington, Oct. 8.—The war department announced today that two shell factories to cost $3,850,000 will be erected in connection with the LaCade Gas Light plants at St. Louis, Mo. The department also announced that bungalows, barracks and other accommodations for munition workers to cost $450,000 will be built at the Pieric Acid plants at Seneca-Solvay at Grand Rapids, Mich.

BATTLE ONE OF THE MOST FURIOUS AND IMPORTANT OF THE GREAT CONFLICT

BULLETIN

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Anglo-American offensive on the St. Quentin sector has resulted in an advance at some places of four or five miles, according to the Standard's correspondent. Many villages and prisoners have been captured.

BULLETIN

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The British and Americans have advanced to a depth of about three miles along a twenty mile front in their great attack between St. Quentin and Cambrai today. Field Marshal Haig makes this announcement in his report from headquarters tonight.

North and South Carolina and Tennessee troops captured Brancourt and Premont, making an advance in these operations of more than three miles.

BULLETIN

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Franco-American troops in Champagne have driven back the Germans over a front of nearly two miles north of St. Pierre, captured the plateau northeast of Autrey and taken numerous prisoners, according to the French official communication issued tonight.

The French northeast of St. Quentin have captured Fontaine, Uterte, the Bellecourt farm, the village of Rouvroy and other important positions. More than 1,200 Germans were made prisoners in this region.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—At 4 o'clock today this was the situation between Cambrai and St. Quentin:

The French, starting from Rouvroy had captured the hills to the eastward and the villages of Essigny and Fontaine.

The Anglo-American line was Beaugard, Brancourt, thru Premont, Serain and Malincourt and west of Malincourt; up by Esnes and LaTargette and Niergnies to the old line south of Cambrai.

The advance roughly speaking was on a front of twenty-one miles to an average depth of two miles and a maximum depth of three miles.

Weaker resistance than usual was met at the center but the enemy south of Cambrai brought up two fresh divisions and counter-attacked heavily. These attacks were repulsed and all lost ground was regained.

The prisoners taken were numerous.

Attack Launched Over Twenty Mile Front

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY ON THE ST. QUENTIN FRONT, Oct. 8.—By the Associated Press.—The British launched a terrific attack on a front of about twenty miles today from Cambrai southward. American forces co-operated and the French at the south also attacked in conformity with the general plan. This was the answer of the fighting British armies to the German bid for peace. Early in the day smashing blows had carried the British and Americans deep into the positions of the staggering enemy.

The battle is one of the most furious as well as one of the most important of the war. The British cannon wheel to wheel sent tons of explosives crashing on top of the enemy in a whirlwind barrage during the better part of the night and early morning. The very air trembled and the earth rocked with the continuous roar of explosions.

The exploding shells throbbed vividly against clouds from which rain poured, the flashes being visible for many miles. The British armies attacked in a converging operation in a northeasterly direction. The fourth army with which the Americans were co-operating attacked at a gap in the Hindenburg system and for miles on both sides while the third army was in action up to Cambrai attacking along the continuation of the Beaufort-Masnières line both on the front and in a turning movement.

So it would appear that the general idea is to smash down the Hindenburg system on a broad front, enabling operations to be carried out to the east of it.

The first phase of the attack began about 2 o'clock in the morning when the infantry with the assistance of an intense barrage, stormed the high ground immediately south of Cambrai, where the Cambrai-Peronne railway runs along. Special attention was given to other high ground in the southern outskirts of Cambrai, as the town is known to be strongly occupied by the enemy.

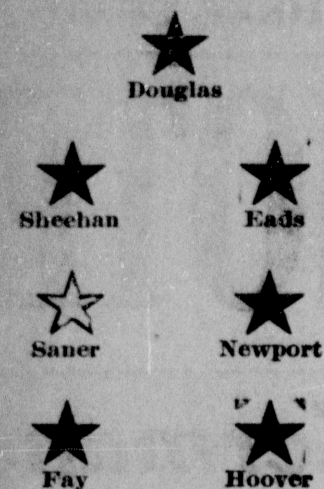

Already British forces north of the town have gone well to the eastward, so that success at the south should undoubtedly result in squeezing it into British hands.

The troops are now pushing forward towards Waincourt, Malincourt, Esnes, Wambaix, Serain, Premont, Brancourt and LaCade and towards the Cambrai-LaCade road. If this road is cut it will further insure the speedy fall of Cambrai. As a matter of fact, some of these towns have probably already been captured but information is always meager so soon after an attack of such great proportions is launched.

While this battle raged the British in the northern areas carried out demonstrations which gave the Germans there something to worry about. Bitter fighting was in progress just and giving them every day of the year. From this standpoint alone good roads are well worth all they cost.

GUARDING HEALTH.

The surgeon general must have been talking about these troubles when he said: "Your fate may be in your hands. Wash your hands before eating." Health authorities are seemingly doing everything possible to prevent the spread of disease germs, but the influenza is making great inroads in many communities. However, the cheering news along this line comes from the Great Lakes station, where the commandant has sent word to the mayors of Chicago and Milwaukee that nurses and physicians can be sent from the station to assist the health authorities in the cities if needed. This statement gives the best kind of indication that the disease is well under control at the Great Lakes Station.

THE PEOPLE ARE LEARNING THE FACTS.

No doubt another reason why President Wilson asked the German chancellor whether he represents the war lords of the people is the recollection that there has been a vast spreading of allied propaganda in the rear of the German lines. By continuous effort tons of literature setting forth the aims of the United States have been dropped by aviators among the German and Austrian troops. True there have been severe penalties for the reading of these "leaflets" but conditions have been such that there is no question about the literature having been read. Reports which have come thru from time to time have shown the effect on the people's mind as many of them have for the first time had real knowledge of the war aims of the United States as stated by President Wilson, who by common consent seems to have become the spokesman for the allies.

REASONS FOR INVESTMENT.

Now is the time that patriotism demands your investment in Liberty loan bonds. The allies are scoring one success after another and are daily pushing the Germans back into their own country. The money from these bonds has been anticipated and spent and now it is your duty to help pay the obligations of your country. Now is the time to invest in Liberty bonds just as a matter of good business judgment. Everything indicates that the war has come to the beginning of the end. This means that the indications are now for six months or possibly a year of warfare, and following all precedent, Liberty bonds will soon be at a premium. When the rate of interest is considered, the absolute security and the strong chance of an advance of 10 or 15 points, the investment is indeed alluring.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY.

President Wilson's reply to the German chancellor's note has won most favorable comment from the press throughout the country. The papers without exception have come out in an unqualified way in support of the president's attitude and he has been warmly commended, not only for the language of the note but the diplomacy that it displays.

The proposal from Prince Maximilian was so phrased that an answer which would not give would indicate both the willingness of the allies to make peace and their strong determination that there will be no peace until the central powers have made complete surrender. It required an answer which would not give to Germany the opportunity of using it to urge the people on to fight to the last ditch by declaring that the allies have planned their ruin. It was that kind of an answer that President Wilson gave. It is not capable of misconception. Instead of affording shelter and his allies an opportunity to mislead the people as to the allies' motives, the appeal goes direct to the people and will be an aid to them in their struggle for democracy. The Wilson note has made war issues clearer and brought peace nearer.

WAR DECREASES CRIME.

It has often been said in the past that war increases lawlessness among civilian population. In some countries statistics have gone to show that a period of crime accompanies war, the theory being that a certain violence of spirit prevails, when the strength of physical force is emphasized. In view of these facts it is interesting to note that there has been a 50 per cent decrease in prison population in some states. This means that the number of men and boys in prisons has been greatly reduced. There has been a special call upon the manhood of the nation and many are those who have been diverted from idle and criminal lives to work and usefulness.

Many people who would, no doubt have fallen into evil ways in the passing of years, entered the army service and others were attracted into lines of work because of the need and because of the high wages paid. There is a certain contagion about working, just as about other activities. When nearly everybody is busy with some task or other, either for wages or as a matter of public interest, this question of work gets into the very air we breathe and even the indolent and sometimes the criminally inclined, are ashamed to be idle. This is another of the benefits of war.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

Where Is He?

The Germans lose on every front; they make a botch of every stunt; their morale is to pieces; shot—where is the good old German gott? The term is Kaiser Bill's not mine; I do not think it good or ill; it is irrelevant, proper, the output of an addled brain, but if there is a German gott, who smiled on all the damage wrought, and would the German crimes allow, where is that good old gott right now? Perhaps he's tired of standing back of such a false and cruel pack, of Prussia's stained, dishonored flag, of Wilhelm's loud and endless brag, in which gott takes a second place if Hahenzollern shows his face. The Kaiser's hosts are on the run, they're losing all the ground they won, and "Kamerad" they meekly whine, as they go pelting for the Rhine. How does the pious Kaiser feel, as he beholds them drop their steel and strike, the hardest kind of trait? Where is his "good old German gott"? When victories were coming thick, "twas "Me und gott" that did the trick; and now that every written sheet brings Wilhelm tidings of defeat, he'll doubtless think that phrase is rot, and charge up all the blame to gott. Can any nation hope to win that quotes Jehovah with a grin?

IT is a bank's first duty to keep itself thoroughly conversant with all financial affairs — Bonds, Stocks, Real Estate Values, Loans, Discounts, Exchange, Notes, and so forth—for only on such accurate knowledge, coupled with sound conservative advice, can a bank be of real assistance.

Of Real Assistance

AND, after all, isn't it only when a bank is of real assistance in a community that it can be said to be truly successful? Naturally this bank desires success, but not for personal glorification. Every bank has a duty in its community entirely aside from profit-making — it must be helpful. Hence, we ask the question: "In what way can this bank be of help to you?"

REGISTRY CARD IS HELD AS EVIDENCE IN ROBBERY CASE

(Peoria Journal)

William Hughes, Jacksonville, has a lot to learn about holding up people if the circumstances surrounding his arrest are not made more clear at his hearing on a charge of assault with intent to commit robbery.

Hughes was sent in and booked by the police as a plain drunk from Holly house yesterday afternoon. When searched he had a registry card bearing the name of Clarence Morey, 809 North Adams street.

Sergeant Brennan called the Morey home to notify his folks and was astounded when told that Morey had just arrived home and had been slugged and robbed. Two cheap watches and a quantity of miscellaneous plunder was taken from the prisoner.

LOCAL BOY THRU
FRENCH COMMISSION

The following incident illustrates how the local Red Cross is constantly helping Morgan County boys in securing knitted articles whenever needed. Every week letters go out from the Knitting Committee reporting any cases that are brought to the attention of the Red Cross and in every instance the boys have been promptly supplied thru Central Division.

Several days ago a Jacksonville mother reported that her son had sent her an order for 3 pairs of socks, 1 helmet, 1 pair of wrist-lets and his order had been immediately signed (such orders must be signed by a regimental officer) and she was unable to send the desired articles thru the Post Office. If she waited to get word to her son in France and a properly signed order she feared it would be three months before the knitted articles could reach him. The Knitting Committee took up the matter at once with headquarters and the following letter was received by return mail:

Central Division Headquarters,
Chicago, Ill.
October 4, 1918.

Mrs. F. J. Heintz,
Chairman, Knitting Committee,
Morgan County Chapter,
American Red Cross,
Jacksonville, Ill.
My Dear Mrs. Heintz:

Replying to your letter of October 3rd, we beg to say that there is no way in which we can forward the knitted articles that the Mother you mention has ready to send to her son abroad. It is too bad that this son did not have the proper military officer sign his request for these articles. While we know this Mother would like to have the various articles she made with her own hands sent to her son this we cannot do, but if you will send us his full military address we will be glad to ask our French Commission to supply out of our stock abroad the articles wanted. The Mother might turn into the Red Cross organization the articles that she has, because we are short of these things, and they will help some other Mother's boy "Over There." In the meantime our organization will furnish him with what he wants at her request.

We also have your letter of the 3rd and unless you hear from us further you will know that our Eastern Branch has been able to deliver a sweater to Mrs. Fred Faugust, Camp Upton.

Yours very truly,
C. W. Sencenbaugh,
Associate Director,

PURE AIR AT

SCOTT'S THEATRE.

In these days when there is so much talk about the danger of disease from public assemblages to the patrons of Scott's theatre to know how much care Mr. Scott has taken to provide for proper ventilation in that theatre. Months ago a ventilating system of the most approved type was installed.

A blower is located in the basement and there are sixteen ventilators in the floor. They operate in conjunction with an exhaust fan located on the second floor and as a result 4,500 cubic feet of air pass into the theatre every minute. This means that the air thruout the entire theatre is changed every four minutes. In addition to this equipment Mr. Scott has a disinfectant system whereby perfumed formaldehyde is frequently sprayed about the theatre.

All this equipment makes it certain that the atmosphere of Scott's theatre is as pure and free from disease germs as science can make it. A number of Jacksonville physicians have examined the system and have given it their unqualified approval.

DR. SPENCER LEAVES

FOR ARMY POST

Doctor, now First Lieutenant, J. H. Spencer left Murrayville yesterday morning for his post of duty at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia. The doctor has spent practically all his life in and near Murrayville and a great many gathered to see him off. He has spent a good part of several days previous going around and saying good-bye to his elderly friends especially and when the time came yesterday for the train to go a large gathering had assembled at the station to see him off.

It was clearly manifested that many in the company were sorry to have Lieut. Spencer leave, although they realized that he was entering the service in answer to the call of duty. Before the train left J. H. Dial, speaking on behalf of Lieut. Spencer's many friends, presented him with a handsome wrist watch. The physician spoke briefly in a way that made it clear how much he appreciated this token of friendship and esteem. During the years of his practice Lieut. Spencer has been very successful and there is no doubt but that he will render the government efficient service in the work that he is now undertaking.

LIBERTY LOAN MEETING.

A Liberty Loan meeting and pie supper will be given at Oak Ridge school house, three and one half miles east of Literberry Friday evening, October 11. VISITED HUSBAND

Mrs. William Newman, Jr., has returned from Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., where she has been visiting with her husband. Sergt. Newman was recently transferred to Ft. Leavenworth, to the truck department of the signal corps, and expects soon to receive orders for overseas.

INCREASE IN SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Effective Thursday, October 10th, the subscription rates of the Jacksonville Daily Journal will be:

BY CARRIER
Per Week 12c
Three Months $1.50
One Year $6.00

BY MAIL
Six Months (in advance) $2.50
One Year (in advance) $5.00
Postage charges will be added to papers mailed beyond the first and second zones.

These rates are made necessary by the constantly increasing costs in the newspaper business. Print paper, ink, metal, and everything entering into the production of a newspaper show constantly mounting costs and the higher subscription rates have thus become a necessity.

The newspapers of Springfield, Decatur, Peoria, Quincy, Bloomington and many other cities have already advanced their rates.

AMERICANS, BRITISH AND FRENCH PLUNGE INTO ENEMY LINES

south of Cambrai when the British, Americans, French, for twenty miles to the south went over the top. A cold rain had started during the night and continued. Mist and fog assisted the attack in some places. The enemy counter-attacks at many places appeared to have been weak and in for the Germans, realizing the desperation of their position had moved their guns well back.

The British barrage did terrible damage among the ranks of the retreating huns. The principal resistance came from the machine gunners, fighting from pockets and nests as heretofore.

At this hour the battle is proceeding with the greatest fury. Attack Began Early.

British Headquarters in France Oct. 8.—(Reuter's).—The attack began this morning by British and American forces on the Cambrai-St. Quentin front has become open warfare in the old sense of the term—the developing of various carefully worked out maneuvers into one great general scheme which is to combine in securing pre-arranged objectives and the rounding up of as many Germans as possible. It has been necessary to assemble the assaulting waves to the east of the Hindenburg Line and to get the masses of men in thru the intricate and battered trench system in the dark. It was a task of extraordinary difficulty but it was accomplished well before zero hour.

Comparatively few tanks were employed, in fact this was a night surprise and it must have minimized their opportunities and the necessity for their assistance. The Anglo-American attack was launched at 2.30 a.m. In the dark hour of a quiet, moonless night twenty miles of guns suddenly crashed forth in a hideous dissonance.

The enemy's artillery response was weak. This confirmed the idea that the Germans steadily were withdrawing their guns. Another phase of the battle commenced at 4.30 and yet another phase when the first grey of dawn was filtering into the dull sky which presently fulfilled its threat to rain.

The first reports were quite promising. Some machine gun resistance was encountered at various sectors of the Beaurevoir-

Masnières line. Here the allies are getting forward but slowly.

Premont, which is reported to have been captured by the Americans is more than four miles northwest of Beaurevoir, and only three miles from Rohain.

At one o'clock the general battle line reached was Brancourt, Serain, Villers Outreaux, Esnes and Niergnies.

The French first army on the south have entered Essegny-le-Petit. The terrific British barrage struck terror in the hearts of the enemy and killed many. The machine gunners however, held out to the last and hordes of them were annihilated. Some of the places reached by the Americans and British by one o'clock were not in today's program at all. But having won from the very outset it was apparently decided to carry on.

Again the Americans showed great gallantry and fought their way forward side by side with their British comrades with a push that promises well for future operations. The last line of Hindenburg defensive system has been shattered on a wide front and the German army in this direction has been put to flight except rear guards and machine gunners. The battle continues but the resistance is constantly diminishing as the British and Americans continue driving deep.

With the British Army in France, Oct. 8.—By the Associated Press.—A great victory, the result of which undoubtedly will prove of the widest importance, especially at this time, has been won today by two British armies in the field on a front extending twenty miles from Cambrai southward.

Americans participated in the center and they plunged even more deeply into the enemy positions than at first had been intended.

The Hindenburg system south of Cambrai now has thoroughly been broken upon a front of considerable width.

Elsewhere the main lines of the Hindenburg system have been penetrated while to the north of Cambrai it appears to have been turned by the operations to the south.

Fast whippet tanks and armored cars are reported now to be in action, and, if this is true, as it is believed to be, the offensive certainly has been exploited.

At the present moment it appears that the new lines run generally from the north, south of Fernelles.

Many Towns Taken

The allied troops are reported in Wambax and to have been seen east of Chateau Anle, in Villers, Outreaux and Serain; east of Premont, east of Brancourt, east of Fresnoy-le-Grand and east of Sequehart. All the ground to the west of these places is reported now to be in British hands.

It was the Americans who stormed and captured Brancourt and Premont after hard fighting. They reached their objectives well ahead of time. In fact this was the case almost everywhere along the line.

East of the line the British and Americans now are in the open country and there seems to be reliable indications that there are no lines of importance there, at least for many miles. Once more, the shattered and disorganized German army.

CZECHO-SLOVAK LEADER IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Professor Thomas Masaryk, foremost leader of the Czechoslovak world, in Chicago today to boost the Liberty Loan, said today that the attainment of the ideals of the Allies in this war involve the passing of Austria from the map as an empire.

"Bulgaria," he said, "has been Austria's tool and so long as there is an Austrian empire there will be trouble in the Balkans."

Asked when he expected Austria-Hungary to break, Professor Masaryk replied:

"The empire is cracking now, but who can tell how soon a diving man will die? There must be months of heavy fighting yet, and a united allied world to crush the central powers."

IMPROVEMENT IN CROP CONDITIONS SHOWN BY REPORT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—General and national improvement in crop prospects on Oct. 1, over a month ago was shown today by the department of agriculture's monthly report. Corn improved to the extent of 46,000,000 bushels and now gives prospect of a 2,717,750,000 bushel crop which would be 441,000,000 bushels smaller than last year's.

Spring wheat during the month improved to the extent of about 20,000,000 bushels, making a crop of 363,195,000 bushels, or 131,000,000 bushels more than produced last year.

With this addition to spring wheat, the total which the crop including winter wheat now in prospect is 918,920,000 bushels. That comes close to the billion bushel mark, but the government last fall to meet the war needs of America and the allies.

This year's tobacco crop will be the largest ever grown. "Crop prospects generally and materially improved during September," a statement of the department of agriculture said in commenting on crop conditions as shown Oct. 1. Moisture was sufficient and farm work was favorable. The killing frosts were earlier than usual over large areas of the northern states, relatively small damage was done.

"Corn in the main belt matured earlier than usual as a result of summer heat and droughty periods, most of it safely except in the northern area."

Spring wheat is turning out better than expected, except in the Pacific northwest, showing a gain of about 20,000,000 bushels over last month promise and giving a present estimate of 918,920,000 bushels of spring and winter wheat combined.

Oats, too are turning out well above the earlier hopes. A crop of 1,535,000,000 bushels is estimated, the third of record and but 3.4 per cent below the bumper crop of last year. The quality is high 94. Barley, potatoes both white and sweet, rice, tobacco, cotton, apples and sugar beets show gains over last month's outlook and buckwheat, flax and kaffirs only show slight losses.

Influenza in U.S. Army Camps Show Decrease

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—While a continued decrease in the number of new cases of Spanish influenza at army camps was shown in reports today to the office of the surgeon general of the army the spread of the malady among the civilian population over the country apparently still is far from being checked.

Reports to the public health service showed the disease was spreading rapidly in the south and that it also was epidemic in portions of the middle west and far west heretofore free from it. South Dakota was added to the list of new states reporting the disease in epidemic form while new outbreaks were reported from other states. During the twenty-four hours ending at noon 11,750 new cases of influenza have reported at all army camps. This was a sharp decrease totalling only 2,181 and deaths were fewer 781.

Camp Taylor, Ky. reported the largest number of influenza cases, 1,944. Camp Funston, Kansas, reported 927 cases and Camp Dodge, Iowa, 990.

The total number of cases of influenza reported from all army camps since the disease became epidemic last month now is placed at more than 182,000 while pneumonia cases total 19,283 and deaths 5,671.

Senate Revises Sections of Big Revenue Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Revision of three important sections of the war revenue bill—those taxing beverages, tobacco and transportation—virtually was completed today by the senate finance committee. Later the committee began work on the amusement admission provisions. The committee lowered the house rate on distilled beverages from $8 to $6.40 per gallon, approved the house plan of doubling present taxes on beer and wines and adopted all of the house imposts on transportation including freight, persons, express and telegraph and telephone messages.

The committee also adopted provisions of the house bill taxing soft drinks, except "near beer" and similar beverages, consideration of which was postponed. In revising the amusement tax section the committee struck out the house provisions for a preliminary tax on moving picture shows of seven cents or less for children under 12 years old and also amended the section imposing a tax of 2c on admissions.

The house plan of doubling present tobacco taxes was substantially adopted except those on cigarettes were made $4.10 per thousand. The house rate of 26 cents a pound on manufactured tobacco was reduced to 24 cents.

Most of the changes made today were with the design of securing increased revenue. Members of the committee held that liquor sales would be greater under reduced rates than under the house taxes.

Only Nine More Working Days to Subscribe Loan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Nine working days of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign now are gone, ten remain and only $1,600,000,000 of the $6,000,000,000 total has been raised.

Treasury compilations tonight showed that pledges of $1,591,556,96 have been received. The increased sales as shown by today's report over yesterday amounts to $268,000,000 says the treasury's review of the campaign and while this is an increase over former days it still is far from satisfactory. Obviously the very hardest kind of work will be required to float the loan, a little more than a fourth of which has been subscribed.

Strong, Forceful Men With Plenty of Iron In Their Blood—

These Are the Ones With the Power and Energy To Win

"Many a capable man or woman fails just short of winning because they don't back up their mentality with the physical strength and energy which come from having plenty of iron in the blood," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. To help make strong, keen red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron. It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time." Nuxated Iron is now being used by over three million people annually, including such men as Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, and ex-Governor of Iowa; former United States Senator and Vice-Presidential nominee Charles A. Towne, General John L. Clem (retired), the drummer boy of Shiloh who was sergeant in the U. S. Army when only twelve years of age; also United States Judge G. W. Atkinson of the Court of Claims of Washington, and others.

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE: Nuxated Iron, which is recommended above, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

THE ROLL OF HONOR.

One of the most unique and honorable organizations that ever existed is that of the Grand Army of the Republic. It is composed of those who fought and won on the thousand or more battle fields of the civil war. Its fundamental principles are Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty. Its membership embraces some of the brightest names in American history—statesmen, orators and heroic leaders of a heroic age. Presidents of our republic have been honored by the order; senators, congressmen and governors of states from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Gulf to the Canadian line have worn the little bronze button and deemed it more honorable than any crown or shield ever worn by emperors, kings and princes of empires or principalities beyond the sea. Those who are privileged to wear the little emblem need no other mode of recognition as to their loyalty and devotion to their God, their country and a flag without a stain.

The little button represents all that is best in American citizenship, and all that is best in human life. No man on whom the stain of treason rests can wear it. Those who do wear it are proud of it. It means more today than it has ever stood for since the organization of the Grand Army came into existence April 6, 1865, when Benjamin F. Stephenson breathed into it the loyal breath of life and started its name and fame down the corridors of time. Grant, Garfield, Hayes, Arthur, McKinley, Harrison, all reached the high office of president and all were honored by having their names written on the rolls of the organization. Its history has been embellished by the names of Logan, that prince of volunteer soldiers who immortalized himself on many a well fought field and helped to crown our arms with a victory that was enduring and a glory that is fadeless, was a member of the organization and was more instrumental in its upbuilding than any living member or of those who have pitched their tents on famous eternal camping ground. On the field of battle and in the halls of congress his voice was always in evidence for those who had borne the heat and burden of war, and for their widows and orphans.

And there were many others who like him stood for those whose valor made our country what it is today, the greatest government ever conceived by man, a united nation of more than one hundred millions of people to meet the crisis through which we are now passing and made it possible for us to raise an army of many millions to secure for all time the priceless heritage of universal freedom and universal democracy to all peoples of all races and all nationalities throughout the world to the end of time. The seeds of freedom sown by the Grand Army of the Republic on the blood red fields of the civil war are now coming into full fruition in the mighty conflict now raging in Belgium, France and Flanders and over the sacred soil once trod by the Man of Galilee two thousand years ago, and out of the great cataclysm of all the ages will come a world purified by fire and sword and made fit for human habitation till time shall be no more. All this will be a result of the work done by the rapidly vanishing army who marched under Freedom's Banner during the darkest days of American history and planted it on the ramparts of a slave autocracy founded on prejudice and superstition, hate and cruelty to a race that has always been loyal to our institutions even the manacled and scourged by the lash of merciless owners of human flesh and blood. The Grand Army said this system was to be discontinued and it came to pass. The spirit of the old days of '61 is today behind our boys on the far flung battle line over yonder and the same glorious spirit that furled the battle flags of human slavery in '65 at Appomattox will furl the battle flags of Prussian autocracy and military depots beyond the Rhine and cause crowns to crumble and thrones to tremble and on their ruins rise republics ruled by the consent of the common people.

or ought to know, that every pension law enacted for their benefit has been placed on the statute books of the nation thru the influence of the Grand Army of the Republic. Leaders of the order fought night and day, week in and week out to bring about the passage of the present law which makes the minimum $30 and the maximum $40 per month. These beneficiaries of this splendid law should consider this matter and give a small fraction of this sum to help perpetuate an organization that has done so much for them, and the widows and orphans of those who have passed on. Those who have dropped out on account of nonpayment of dues should remember that $2 will wipe out all past indebtedness and give them a new start in the ranks of those who are slowly stepping on toward their eternal sunset, leaving behind a heritage of loyalty and devotion that is priceless and beyond purchase.

Any citizen that it may mean to posterity was a son or grand-son can proudly say, "My father, or grandfather, was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and helped to bring back Old Glory from the bloody fields of the civil war."

Those of you who are still out of the fold and are eligible to membership should not hesitate a moment to get back into our ranks. Charity and Loyalty stand shoulder to shoulder till the Grim Sergeant calls the roll for all of us, for the day is not very distant when the Grand Army of the Republic will have become a sacred memory. Think it over before it is too late. The time to act is now, and not put it off from week to week and then forget all about it. I joined the order in 1866 and have never yet regretted the day I joined the greatest organization that ever existed in a nation that made it possible for me to become a member of an order that will live in history till the end of time, with a record that the remorseless years can neither dim nor destroy.

Yours in F. C. and L.

Commander Matt Starr Post, 378.

DR. BAKER, DISTRICT HEALTH OFFICER

Well Known Local Physician In Charge of Law Enforcement in Military Vice Zones.

Dr. E. F. Baker, of the Local Board, was summoned by Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, to go to Danville and Champaign to look over the influenza situation. Dr. Baker reports that at Danville there are from 500 to 1,000 cases of influenza, with two deaths from pneumonia; the great majority of the cases are of a mild type and there is no panic or alarm there. Danville has a population of about 25,000, with a large industrial population on account of the coal fields in that part of the state.

The local and state health authorities are taking active measures to combat the disease by requiring all physicians to report all cases to local health boards, and by strict isolation of patients in the home or in hospitals; they require all nurses and attendants to wear face masks when in contact with patients, and advise the use of nasal douche and throat gargle of antiseptic solution of Dakin or Dohol solution, so easily obtained at any drug store, avoidance of contact with crowds and especially with sneezers and persons having symptoms of a cold is recommended.

The question of closing places of assembly, such as picture shows, theatres, and also the school, is given serious consideration, but such drastic action has not yet been taken.

Danger From Pneumonia.

Dr. Baker also visited Champaign, where there are about 5,000 students taking military training; there are 200 cases of influenza in the student body, and 200 cases among civilians, making in all about 400 cases at Champaign on Monday. The greatest difficulty is in finding quarters for such large numbers, the government is taking over large buildings, furnishing cots for quarters, and has also organized a body of eight physicians, largely the local doctors of the city to take care of students coming down with the disease. Four deaths have occurred; the type is the same in most cases; the danger lies in this fact—the influenza prepares the way for invasion of pneumonia. The mild case of influenza requires the same precaution as to going out, or exposure to cold, or going to work too soon; as a much graver illness because you are just well prepared for pneumonia as you recover from influenza.

Dr. Drake, of the State Board of Health, has created zones ten miles square at all military training schools and some industrial centers; one at Danville, Champaign, Decatur, Springfield, Jacksonville and Quincy, and has appointed Dr. Baker to take charge of them. The instructions to this district health officer are to co-operate with, and see to it that local health authorities comply with, and enforce the rules laid down by the department of health of the state, not only at the military training school, but in the whole ten miles square of territory which embrace the townships adjacent. The Illinois College district embraces the whole city of Jacksonville, Arcadia, Yatesville, Bethel, Alexander, Sulphur Springs, Woodson and Lynville, and embraces all matters that affect the public health.

Must Report Violations.

The district health officer is charged with the duty of reporting for prosecution all violations of health officers and others for failure to carry out rules and regulations of the state board in all these zones. Infectious diseases, venereal diseases, typhoid, require especial vigilance.

The little face mask is especially important to all those nursing or in contact with influenza patients. A simple device of 4 to 6 thicknesses of gauze about four inches square with a tape attached at the four corners to go around the head or neck. These masks can be made by the Red Cross workers or any of our women's societies doing such splendid work in knitting, etc. Take it up ladies so the mask is available and our nurses do not become incapacitated. A yard of gauze will make a dozen masks, the cost need not exceed three cents each. Sample mask may be seen at Coover and Shreve drug store, West Side square.

AILMENTS OF WOMEN

There is no denying the fact that thousands of American women drag along day in and day out suffering with these ailments peculiar to their sex which make life a burden. If women suffer from dragging-down pains, inflammatory, ulcerated or catarrhal conditions would only give that greatest of all remedies, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, they would readily find relief from such suffering, as the many letters of commendation constantly being published prove.—Adv.

FUNERALS

Funeral services for Miss Laura Louise Leach were held from Riggs Methodist church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the Rev. V. P. Mitchell, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Johnson of Winchester.

The Rev. Mr. Mitchell dwelt particularly upon the sad news that comes from the death of a young person. His words were very comforting to the members of the family.

The minister, who had been often in the Leach home, referred to the beautiful life which had come to such an untimely close. He referred particularly to her cheerful disposition and the fact that the deceased was always with a smile on her face to extend cordial greeting or hospitality to her friends. Since Miss Leach had been preparing for Red Cross work the minister emphasized that she had laid down her life in the cause which had come so near to her heart.

The church was completely filled with a large gathering of friends who gathered to pay a tribute to one whom they had learned to love in life. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Campbell, Miss Jessie Richardson and Howard McCullough. Mrs. Julia Kinison sang a solo. Mrs. Howard McCullough was at the piano.

There was a profusion of beautiful flowers and these were cared for by twelve young ladies who had been intimate friends of the deceased. They were: Misses Helen Dietrich, Esther Davis, Dorothy Hainsfurther, Margaret Brongie, Mayne Herring, Irene McCullough, Louise Coultas, Nellie Gibbs, Keemer, Louise Hamilton, Lena Hays and Alma McCullough.

Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery the bearers being, Percy Funk, Clifford Allen, Sherman Coultas, Allen McCullough, Everett Gibbs and Wilbur Gibbs.

Mrs. W. D. Mathers has gone to Minneapolis, Minn., for a visit with relatives.

BAPTIST LADIES' AID OF LITERBERRY

Met With Mrs. C. A. Beavers—Mrs. Earl Rexroat Leader—Lit-erberry News Notes.

Literberry, Oct. 8.—The Ladies Aid of the Baptist church met "The Zephyrs" on Wednesday with Mrs. C. A. Beavers, hostess. Mrs. Earl Rexroat led the meet-ing.

Scripture reading, Isaiah 65: 17 to 24, by Mrs. D. K. McCarty.

Volunteer prayers by several members.

Song, "Onward Christian Soldier." There were several readings as follows:

The Value of a True Life, by Mrs. Earl Rexroat.

Why I Buy at Home, by Mrs. J. A. Litter.

What a Liberty Bond Will Do, by Mrs. Ellis Thompson.

The Potter and the Clay, by Miss Ethel Sorrells.

The Mother of Five, by Mrs. M. O. Petefish.

Refreshments were served at the proper time and were first quality.

The committee on program for the remainder of the year are, Mrs. John Guy and Mrs. McCarty.

A good offering was taken and the meeting closed.

Mrs. Perry Burton of Chicago is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Ennis at Cedar Cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. George Decker are the parents of another son, who came to their home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lowden are riding around in a nice new surrey. They called on us Sunday afternoon, bringing Mrs. Eva Stiltz with them.

Mrs. Stiltz with them. Mrs. Stiltz and Mrs. Lowden are twin sisters and were once known as "The Litter Sisters."

S. W. Nichols of Jacksonville according to previous arrange-ments, came out to our town Sunday morning, driving "Dilly" hitched to the family buggy. Mrs. Nichols and daughter Frances came along, and they all took din-ner at Sunshine Cottage where we had a very enjoyable visit. Dur-ing the noon hour, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Coffman of Jacksonville, came in, and this made a pleasant visit for all.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Crum are getting extravagant in their old days. They gave another swell dinner on Monday, at Crum Villa, to some of their old friends. This was not a war dinner, but one of genuine old fashioned "good things to eat" dinner well cook-ed and in great abundance. This is the third swell affair for these good people in three weeks, and we believe it is "getting to be a habit."

The Litterberry children are storing away walnuts, and its a common thing to have walnut hullings; sometimes they hold these hullings after night and hull the nuts by the light of lan-terns; from the jolly times they have, we believe a nut hulling beats a weiner roast.

Wiley Scribner is in bed sick with a bad case of tonsillitis.

D. K. McCarty and wife, Jesse Litter, Harold Lee Daniels and Freda May Danjels drove the In-terstate car about two miles north west on Monday and brought back six bushels of nice walnuts. The first thing Harold Lee did was to ask his grandpa to peel a wal-nut for him to eat, thinking they were pears. See?

Mr. Willard Young brought a picture to us a few days ago to see if we would know who it was. This was a family picture of Willie and Rosa Yonug, of Color-ado Springs. The children are all good looking, and the parents look as young as the children. There are six girls and one boy. Willie and Rosa Smith Young were residents of Illinois when they first began housekeeping.

Our delegates who attended the Morgan-Scott County Baptist an-nual association at Ashland on Thursday and Friday, brought home a good report of the two days meeting. They were pleased to be the winners of the mission banner in the Reading contest of the Mission Circle. This banner or pennant was given by Mrs. Margaret Burnett of Waverly for the Mission Circle who did the best work in the past year.

This is the second pennant the Litterberry class has won; just a year ago, at Waverly they car-ried off the honors. Mrs. J. A. Litter brought in the prize, which is made of black satin, with large fancy letters embroidered in gold, that is, shaded silk, of golden and lemon color, which is very pretty on the black ground. The letters are M. B. R. C., which mean, Missionary Baptist Read-ing Circle (or Contest). The Lit-erberry Missionary Circle extends sincere thanks to Mrs. Burnett for this beautiful piece of work.

Her brother lives fifty miles from Sacramento and she will not be so much away from kindred as here and she feels her health will be better in the climate of the golden state. The young lady has a great many friends in this vicinity who will wish her all happiness and prosperity in her new home.

"VOTE FOR GOOD ROADS BONDS" LOWDEN URGES

Governor Says More Than $30,000,000 Will Go to Workingmen After the War Is Won.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 8.—Governor Lowden has issued a statement asking all voters of Illinois to vote "Yes" on the good roads bond issue in November. The governor urges the $60,000,000 bond issue as a measure made necessary by the war. He says workingmen of the state will receive in wages more than $30,000,000 of the amount during the period of industrial readjustment after the war.

The governor's statement says: "To the voters of Illinois: 'I am anxious that the good roads bond issue receive the approval of the people at the election in November 5 and am therefore again calling your attention to some of its important features. At every opportunity I am glad to say a word in its favor and urge all citizens to do all in their power from now until election day to make the issue plain to the voters. One thing of prime importance is that everyone should vote upon the question. The man who does not vote on the proposition on the little ballot in effect casts a vote against it, because it must receive practically a majority of all votes cast at the election.'

"While our hearts and fortunes are set on the winning of the war, we know that peace will come ultimately because we are going to win a victory that will force our kind of peace. And when peace comes we are going to be ready for it, by such wise foresight as providing for the great project of a state system of roads 4,800 miles in extent, to be constructed in a period of about five years with the proceeds of this bond issue.

All Money from Autoists. "Right here let me remind every voter of the fact that all of the money to pay for these bonds and all the interest is to come from the state automobile license fees that already are being paid into the state treasury under rates already fixed by the legislature. The proposition is one of business, simply issuing bonds against the automobile tax so that we can get the good roads within a reasonable time instead of building them in disconnected sections extending over a quarter of a century. The automobilists of the state, the men who pay the bills, seem to be not only willing but anxious to stand the expense.

It should be repeatedly emphasized that the man who does not own an automobile will not be called upon to pay a cent toward the cost because not a dollar of taxes will be placed upon lands or other property outside of motor vehicles. But under our constitution all voters must pass upon the proposition at the polls, whether they are taxed or not. To me, it seems as though good citizenship would inspire a vote for the bond issue.

Build After the War.

"Now, as to the practical task that will come if the proposition is carried. Personally, I have gone on record, and I repeat now, that until the close of the war no bonds will be marketed, no construction commenced. We need labor at other tasks. Just now materials are high. Under war regulations we could not transport the materials, even if we could afford to pay for them. But the day is coming when the state and the nation will have to take the lead in great public improvements to turn business and labor back into normal channels. That will be the day when our boys are back with laurels from foreign fields. We will have to take the initiative to prevent what economists say comes after every war, a temporary cessation of industry while it is being re-adjusted from a war basis to a peace basis. In that period we will find the material market lower; we can get railroad cars to carry the things that go into the making of hard roads. Our engineers, now building great road systems in France will be available for our employment.

Labor Gets Biggest Slice. "I am informed by men well acquainted with road building that, considering every process of machinery and material production, transportation and actual construction, more than half the cost of our proposed road system will go to labor. Here we have one of the solutions of the problem of absorbing surplus labor after we win the war. If the statisticians are right, more than $30,000,000 of the $60,000,000 will go to labor.

"Looking at the question from all angles I am more than convinced that the failure of the bond issue at the polls in November would be a calamity to the state. I implore every citizen to put his shoulder to the wheel and help carry this bond issue. It is not a political matter. Leaders of both parties are working for it. There are committees in every county doing the best they can. In the midst of other duties closely associated with the war, to arouse the people to a realization of what the road bond issue means. In some instances these committees have found that there is a disposition to let the question pass by without voting on the ground that it will benefit only automobilists. This is a mistaken view.

"Every citizen-farmer, workman, business man—has something at stake here. Vote the bonds in November! Build the roads when we win the war!"

"FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor."

Harmony Lodge No. 3, A. F. & A. M., will hold a special meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Visiting brethren welcome.

Word has been received that John Griffith Ames, Jr., who is attending the military academy at Annapolis, is suffering from an attack of Spanish influenza. As soon as he received the wire telling of his son's illness, Dr. Ames immediately wired for further particulars, but at this writing had not received a reply.

BRITISH SOLDIER TO SPEAK HERE THURSDAY

Lieut. A. Newberry Choyce of Famous English Regiment to Address Loan Meeting at David Prince Tomorrow Evening—Has Story Worth Hearing.

A telegram received yesterday by Charles A. Johnson, district chairman for the Liberty Loan, made it certain that Lieut. A. Newberry Choyce will come to Jacksonville to speak Thursday evening, Oct. 10. It is expected that the meeting will be held at the David Prince building. Lieut. Choyce has served with the famous Tiger regiment of British troops and because of his wounds is not now in active service and is sent to this country by the English government to assist in the Liberty Loan work. The lieutenant, aside from his vivid war experience is a man of broad learning and is a polished speaker. He is known as the English soldier-poet and has written a number of books and articles for publication. His latest work, known as "The Memory Book," is now in the hands of New York publishers and will come from the press at an early date.

A number of Jacksonville people heard Lieut. Choyce at the Liberty Loan organization meeting in St. Louis several weeks ago. Mr. Johnson yesterday voiced the opinion of all these people in the statement that Lieut. Choyce is easily the best war time speaker they have heard. He has a splendid command of language, has had such marvelous experiences in the war that he has a story well worth the telling. He is a polished orator and in no case has failed to enthrall his audiences. The local Red Cross committee feels very fortunate in having secured Lieut. Choyce for this meeting. It was really possible to secure this speaker because of change in plans of the itinerary in the state of Missouri. Lieut. Choyce was at Nottingham University in England when the war broke out. He went to an officers' training camp and subsequently entered the service in the public school and university battalion of Royal Fusiliers. He received training in both Scotland and Ireland and then became an officer in the famous Leicestershire regiment, known as the Tigers. He was severely wounded at the battle of Arras and was for a long period left lying within the German lines. He was subsequently rescued by comrades. The history of that famous regiment is well indicated by the statement that after a period of service only 40 of the 800 survived.

No doubt a very large audience will be present at the David Prince school tomorrow night to hear this soldier from the front.

BARBEE HOOK IN RED CROSS WORK

Wealthy Californian Gives Up Position to Go Overseas for War Work.

A Los Angeles paper has the following concerning Barbree Hook o' Los Angeles, who has gone overseas in Red Cross work. Mr. Hook is a son of the late W. S. Hook.

Exchanging the luxuries of a life of ease for the hardships of war, Barbree Hook, popular club and society man, is leaving within a few weeks for France.

He goes under the banner of the Red Cross and has undertaken a very arduous task.

He will bear the title of field representative—and must be in touch with both officers and men. He also goes on the selected roster of those who handle the transportation for the Red Cross a task that looms large on the horizon, as everything from a roll of bandages to the mightiest motor truck comes under this heading.

In fact, it has been said that there is more detail in this department than almost any in the great war game, and Mr. Hook gives up a position as branch manager with a tire company to take over the new work.

Mr. Hook is very modest about the intricacies of the new work, proving quite disconcerted when his future plans were discovered. "I say, I'd rather face anything over there than a lot of publicity over here," he pleaded to a hard-hearted reporter.

"Everyone's doing something, and I thought I might be a bit, and that's all there is to it." But his charming wife admits to being the proudest woman in the world.

Just think—it's the biggest sort of work requiring lots of serious attention—not counting the danger at all.

"It's splendid in him. And tho' I miss him dreadfully, I'm so proud of him just now that I haven't time to be anything else."

"I can't go with him, of course. But I can and will work here. Six days a week I mean to devote to laboring at this end of the Red Cross—with Barbree at the other."

Mr. Hook leaves soon—and returns—when there is no more for the greatest mother in the world to do.

THE WAY THEY DO THINGS IN FRANKLIN

Franklin citizens have an enviable reputation for always meeting all demands made upon the community and then doing a little bit more. Especially is this true of anything in the patriotic line.

As an illustration of the spirit that prevails in Franklin, and it is the spirit that will help win the war, the citizens raised the sum of $130 and sent to Springfield for the Watch Factory band to attend the funeral of Chester Hart. This is the manner in which Franklin responds to every demand and is very proud of our neighbor in the southeast part of the county.

In the county court yesterday Judge Thomson overruled a motion for arrest of judgment and also motion for new trial in the case of Goldie Medlock and Ellen Groves by Attorney W. N. Hairgrove. These women are from Waverly and were recently convicted in the county court of selling liquor in anti-saloon territory.
